BHU at a Glance

Banaras Hindu University, the capital of all knowledge, is a testament to the vast vision of Mahamana Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya, who viewed education as an enabling pathway to nation building and the development of its resources. It has been more than a century since it was established in 1916, and BHU has, over the years, epitomised a seamless synthesis of ancient wisdom and modern scientific temper. It is a Central University, with the Hon'ble President of India as its Visitor.

The Founder's Vision

The founder of BHU, Mahamana Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya, envisaged it as a teaching, examining and residential university, distinct from other prevailing universities of the time, which were primarily examining universities. He emphasised the preservation of all that was good and great in our ancient civilisation, the promotion of learning and research in the arts and sciences, along with the advancement and diffusion of scientific, technical, and professional knowledge. The essence of this vision is perhaps best expressed in Mahamana's own words:

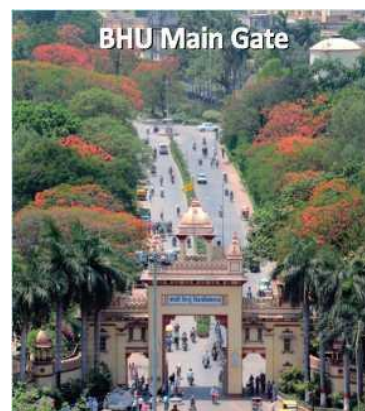

"A Teaching University would but half perform its function, if it does not seek to develop the heart-power of its scholars with the same solicitude with which it would develop their brain- power. Hence, it is that the proposed University has placed the formation of character in youth as one of its principal objects. It will seek not merely to turn out men as engineers, scientists, doctors, merchants, theologians, but also as men of high character, probity and honour, whose conduct through life will show that they bear the hall-mark of a great University."

The University

BHU is a vast educational cosmos comprising 5 Institutes, 16 Faculties, 136 Departments, and the Mahila Mahavidyalaya. The Indian Institute of Technology (BHU) is also situated on its campus. This translates into a phenomenal range of disciplines, incorporating almost all conceivable subjects. The faculty members and students are thus offered a plethora of opportunities to pursue their academic and research interests.

The campus of BHU in Varanasi is spread out over 550 hectares (1360 acres) in all its glory. It reflects the core ethos of education at BHU, blending the most modern, state of art research facilities with impressive buildings, some of which are a century old. The Rajiv Gandhi South Campus of BHU, spanning almost 1100 hectares (2,700 acres), is situated at Barkachha in Mirzapur district. There are four colleges located on their own separate campuses in Varanasi, which are admitted to the privileges of the University.

Accordingly, the detailed seat matrix for each OU has been provided in section B.
- (vii) A candidate can apply for admission in any OU if the candidate's post graduate subject is available under the subject basket of that OU. The candidate will get the option to select a maximum of five OUs. Requests for a change of option/preference will not be entertained after the final submission of the form.

of India (Gol) to the total number of seats advertised by the OU under both modes of admission, in accordance with Clause VIII(i).

- (b) Since the total number of seats for each OU is determined based on the seats offered by different locations under each mode of admission, the category-wise reserved seats as per clause VIII(iii)(a), read with Clause VIII(i), have thereafter been distributed across the respective locations and modes of admission.
- (c) The total number of seats across categories in any mode remains the same as provided by the OU. All efforts have been made to ensure that the aggregate of the category-wise seats allocated across all locations and modes of admission is exactly equal to the corresponding category-wise seats determined under Section VIII (iii)(a), without altering the number of seats originally advertised for any location or mode of admission.
- (iv) In case of non-availability of eligible candidates, the vacant seats of SC category will be converted into ST category seats, and the vacant seats of ST category will be converted into SC category seats within the same mode.

The certificate to be submitted must have been issued after March 31, 2026.
- (vi) To claim the benefit of EWS reservation, the candidate must submit an EWS Certificate (in the name of the candidate) from the competent issuing authority certifying that the candidate is eligible for reservation under this category. The certificate to be submitted must have been issued after March 31, 2026.

The name of the candidate claiming reservation under SC/ST/OBC-NCL/EWS/PwBD must match the name that appears on his/her qualifying certificates. Similarly, his/her parents' names must match in both sets of certificates. - (viii) A relaxation of 5% in the minimum percentage of marks shall be allowed for those belonging to SC, ST, OBC (non-creamy layer) and PwBD categories. However, a PwBD/ SC/ST/OBC candidate shall not get the double benefit of being a SC/ST/OBC as well as a PwBD candidate under the above relaxations (such relaxations will also be applicable on admissions under direct mode).
- (ix) If the merit index of a reserved category candidate is higher than or equal to the merit of the last admitted unreserved candidate, the reserved category candidate shall be treated as an unreserved category candidate. Provided that if a meritorious reserved category candidate is admitted by availing relaxation in the general qualifying standards/criteria, which would not have been available had the candidate remained under the unreserved category, then his/her admission shall be adjusted against the concerned reserved category quota and the consequential vacancy created in the unreserved category shall be filled by a unreserved category candidate in order of merit.

Ph.D. Admission Information Bulletin 2026

- (x) Candidates who wish to claim the benefit of reservation must upload the valid category certificate, as per the specifications provided above, at the time of submitting the application form. The date of admission to the Ph.D. programme shall be the date of deposition of fee/date of admission notified by the university. It is clarified that the validity of JRF on the date of submission of the online application form is a criterion only for admission to the Ph.D. programme under JRF mode and has no bearing on or connection with the fellowship disbursement. The University takes no responsibility for payment of fellowship if the validity of JRF expires between the date of submission of online application form and the date of deposition of the admission fee/date of admission notified by the university. In such cases, the candidate is solely responsible to settle the matter of payment of fellowship with the funding agency.

 - (iii) In case there is no conversion formula for computing the percentage, CGPA (out of 10) multiplied by 10 will constitute the percentage. In case the CGPA is available only out of 4, then the CGPA multiplied by 25 will constitute the percentage. In case of any confusion, suitable conversion/scaling shall be done to compute the percentage based on the upper limit of the CGPA for the concerned discipline, keeping in view the BHU conversion formula. The department shall seek approval from the University Admission Coordination Board in this regard.
- XIII. A candidate already possessing a Ph.D. degree from this or any other University shall be eligible to be admitted to the Ph.D. programme for an additional Ph.D. degree in a subject other than the subject in which he/she already possesses the Ph. D. degree. The admission of such a candidate will be at the discretion of the Vice-Chancellor, who, based on specific recommendations and full

 - (i) 70% weightage of the Percentile of the candidate in UGC/CSIR NET/ICAR-SRF/GATE examination as provided by the agency as per the examination mentioned by candidates. In case of ICAR-SRF (Ph.D.) examination, the marks obtained/ percentile will be used.
 - (ii) 30% weightage of interview percentile as computed by the university using the method given below under clause A.3.(IV). In case of ICAR-SRF (Ph.D.) examination qualified candidates, 30% weightage of interview score will be used in case where ICAR-SRF (Ph.D.) percentile is unavailable.
- III. Before the publication of result, a marksheet will be issued on the candidate's portal mentioning interview marks, percentiles and the numbers used in the calculation of percentile, merit, and rank under each mode of admission.
- IV. Percentile calculation method: The following method will be used to calculate the percentile of a candidate whose interview marks under a particular subject basket is, say, T:

$$P = \frac{M}{N} \times 100$$

P: Denotes the computed percentile of the interview marks of that candidate in the mentioned subject basket.

N: Denotes the total number of candidates who appeared in the interview for that subject basket.

M: Number of candidates who secured an interview mark less than or equal to his/her marks (T).

Example: Let in a Subject Basket Code XX2, 50 candidates appeared in interview. A candidate (Mr. Z) got 17 marks out of 30 in the interview. Further, 20 out of these 50 candidates got interview marks less than or equal to the marks of Mr. Z; in this case, N=50, M=20, and the Percentile of interview marks of Mr. Z will be:

$$P (\text{percentile of marks } 17) = \frac{20}{50} \times 100 = 40$$

Similarly, if another candidate secured 27 marks out of 30 and it is the highest among all 50 candidates, then his/ her percentile will be:

$$P (\text{percentile of marks } 27 \text{ as highest}) = \frac{50}{50} \times 100 = 100$$

A.4. Interview

- I. The candidate is required to physically appear before an interview committee of the concerned discipline/department/centre/school. Each member of the interview committee will assess the performance of candidates independently. Interview in online mode is not allowed.
- II. For each mode of admission, the interview will be of 30 marks. The average of the marks awarded by the members of the interview committee shall be awarded to the candidate as the interview score and shall be used for the percentile calculation.
- III. For any OU where subject-specific thrust-area knowledge is crucial to decide his/her suitability as a Ph.D. scholar, there shall be a screening test as decided by the concerned OU. For admission in such OU, the screening test, document verification, and the interview shall be conducted together and only those candidates who qualify in the screening test shall be considered for admission on the basis of merit preparation rule provided in clause A.3. The OUs in which screening test will be conducted have been identified in Section B. Other details of the screening test including syllabus, evaluation method and mode of the test etc. will be notified on www.bhuonline.in.

IV. Calling of the Applicants to Appear in the Interview:

The calling of candidates for verification and interview shall be as per the following norms:

- (i) Under the JRF mode of admission, all the candidates shall be called to appear in the interview.
- (ii) Under the NET mode of admission, ten candidates, against each advertised seat, shall be called to appear in the interview, in the order of merit, based on the computed total percentile of UGC/CSIR NET examination/GATE examination or score of ICAR-SRF (Ph.D.) examination, as the case may be. However, keeping in view the total number of applications received, the concerned OU may invite up to a maximum of 15 candidates for each advertised seat after obtaining prior approval of the University Admission Coordination Board (UACB).
- (iii) If the number of applications, under NET mode, for each advertised seat is less than 10, all candidates will be called.
- (iv) Against each advertised seat for candidates of PwBD category under NET mode, the calling norm mentioned in (ii) and (iii) shall be followed.

Ph.D. Admission Information Bulletin 2026

- (v) Even where an Operational Unit (OU) opts to conduct a qualifying screening test under Clause A.4.III, the number of candidates called shall not exceed the permitted limit as defined in Clause A.4.IV(ii).
- (vi) Calling a candidate for verification and interview does not guarantee admission in the Ph.D. programme. The eligibility of a candidate for Ph.D. admission shall be confirmed only after verification of the original documents submitted in support of eligibility requirements at the time of physical verification and interview.

A.5. Seat Allocation

The seat allocation shall be done as per the following procedure –

- I. For each subject basket of an OU, a single merit list will be prepared separately for each mode of admission, irrespective of the admission location chosen by the candidate in the application form. After the OU level merit index is prepared, the candidate's rank will be generated for each location wherever he/she has applied for admission. In case a candidate receives admission offer from multiple locations or multiple OUs, he/she must submit the fee for their preferred OU and location. Once the fee for a particular OU and location is deposited, all other offers will be automatically cancelled, and admission offer will be issued to next meritorious candidate(s) against the vacant seats arising from such cancellation.
- II. For the Institute of Medical Sciences, the number of advertised seats for the subjects other than the core discipline will be equal to the number of faculty members who have offered seats for the Ph.D. programme for the academic session 2026-27. The division of seats shall be 50% in both modes, with fractional seats, if any, rounded off in favour of the JRF Mode. Further, for these subjects, the category wise seats will be as per the share of different categories under each mode.
- III. The allocation of seats shall be done based on merit. Once the seats of any category are filled the remaining candidates of that category shall be kept on the waiting list.
- IV. In case of a tie between candidates, the candidate with higher age shall be considered as having a higher rank.⁸⁴⁸
